Bowery at Midnight.

The Two Were Looking for Lodg-

Through the acuteness of Policeman Beorge Geneman, of the East Printerstreet police station, little twelve-yearild Gertrude Schults, living with her mother and stepfather, James Bussey, at 5001-3 East Eightleth street, was

The policeman neticed the girl, acat Sixth street and the Bowery, shortly before midnight, and come out again irriedly. The clerk of the hotel told Gasman that the man had tried to engage a room for the night, but his marranase had been declined.

Following the couple down the Bowery, the policeran joined them just as they were entering another hotel at No. 255.

In reply to questions the man said he was Charley Schultz, the captain of an icc-boat, and that the girl was his daughter, Annie. They had been to the theaire together, and as his boat, lying at the foot of East Seventy-ninth street, was to leave at 3 A. M. fer up the river, he though the would sleep downtown and so up to the boat early in the morning.

The girl correborated the man, and volunteered the statement that be mother and two brothers were on the boat. The story told by the two seemed to be all right until the officer asked the name of the boat and where sho the name of the boat and where she was lying. This the girl was unable to Are You

The offices took the couple to the East Fifth street station, where the man had the skirl repeated their story about being father and daughter.

Under clear executioning by Capt. Cross the man assessed that his right name was Eawis Feat, thirty-sight years old, captain of the ice-bent Topey, lying at the foot of Bust Eccatty-ninth street, and that the garl was Gertrude Schultz, of 600 1-3 Hast Eightleth street.

He said the garl was Gertrude Schultz, and that the part had been coming for ice to his beat for some time, and, taking a fancy to her, he had escorted her to the theatre. As it was so late he had thought it better to let her sleep downtown.

The rid said that after the theatre.

The girl said that after the theatre was over, Post told her to come with him and he would give her a nice time.

From their experience with Italian criminals the detectives are confident that Presetto is hiding in some Italia quarter of the city.

The ward men went to Mulberry Bend shortly before midnight, but diligent search after the murderer during the remainder of the night proved fruitless.
The hunt is being continued to-day.

The immediate cause of the crime was cent scarfs,

"I was discouraged, brokenhearted. I was so ill with female trouble I could not walk or stand, and had to be assisted to my feet when arising from a chair.

It was learned by the police this morning that the intended secret flight to Germany of Brown and his daughter was not the only cause of the butchery.
Presetto was of a very jealous disposition. The memory of his wife's relations with Sciplo rankled in his breast.
Rumors that Sciplo had been paying visits to his wife came to his ears, and aggravated the rage of the husband.
When he returned from home last night and saw his wife making preparations to leave Presetto became a raving maniac.

It was then that he seized the knife and committed the murderous assault.
